Trouble at the Front Door (A2 · English A2)

Tekst / Transcript

Anna: Good morning, Tom. You look tired today.

Tom: Yes, I am. My front door is a problem again. The lock is old and my key does not turn.

Anna: That is not good. Can you open the door at all?

Tom: Sometimes. I pull the handle very hard and then it opens.

Anna: My father has the same problem. He puts a little oil on the key. Then it moves easily.

Tom: That is a good idea. I have a small bottle in the kitchen. I can try it today.

Anna: There is also a gap under your door. I see it from the street.

Tom: I know. Cold air comes in at night. My cat likes it, but I do not.

Anna: And what is that mark on the wood? It looks black.

Tom: My neighbour's dog does that. He is a big dog and he loves my door.

Anna: Poor door! Is there a hole in it too?

Tom: Yes, a very small one near the bottom. Water comes in when it rains.

Anna: You need help. This is a big matter now, not a small one.

Tom: You are right. I call a man on Monday.

Anna: Good. Oh, please take your garbage to the street. The truck comes at eight.

Tom: Thank you, Anna. I forget it every week.
