The Missing Bicycle (A2 · English A2)

Tekst / Transcript

Anna: Good morning, Tom. You look tired today.

Tom: I am. Someone takes my bicycle from the garden.

Anna: Oh no! That is terrible news.

Tom: I know. I call the police at seven o'clock.

Anna: Do they come to your house?

Tom: Yes. A young officer opens a new case for me.

Anna: Good. Does she find anything in the garden?

Tom: She finds some mud and a small key.

Anna: Maybe that key is good evidence.

Tom: She says the same thing. She puts it in a bag.

Anna: My neighbour sees a boy with a red bicycle.

Tom: My bicycle is red! Can she recognize him?

Anna: She only sees his back, but she remembers his jacket.

Tom: A jacket is enough for me.

Anna: Where does the boy go?

Tom: He rides to the park behind the school.

Anna: People often hide things in those old boxes there.

Tom: That is true. I want to look inside them.

Anna: Please wait for the police. They can catch the boy.

Tom: You are right. I don't want trouble.

Anna: What is the cause of all this? Your gate is open.

Tom: Yes, I forget it every evening.

Anna: Now you have a new plan.

Tom: I do. I buy a strong lock today.

Anna: And you keep the number of your bicycle a secret.

Tom: Good idea. I write it in my little book.

Anna: I hope you get your bicycle back soon.

Tom: Thank you, Anna. You are very kind.

Try our 6-step method for free and make these words stick.

Listen to this episode online: https://course.interactivelessons.nl/local/podcast/episode.php?id=27472

Start this course for free: https://course.interactivelessons.nl/mod/quiz/view.php?id=1882