A Sunday in the City (A2 · English A2)

Tekst / Transcript

Maria: Hi, Leo. Are you free on Sunday?

Leo: Yes, I am. What is your plan?

Maria: I want a bus tour of the old town. It starts at ten.

Leo: That sounds fun. Do we go by car?

Maria: No, please. Parking in the center is very hard on Sunday.

Leo: You are right. I never find a free space there.

Maria: Public transportation is cheap here, and the buses come often.

Leo: Okay. We can meet at the station at half past nine.

Maria: Good. The station is underground, so go down the big stairs.

Leo: I know that place. It is dark but clean.

Maria: The bus stops in front of the museum. Then we walk straight to the river.

Leo: I love that street. My uncle works in tourism and he knows this city well.

Maria: Then he can tell us many stories.

Leo: He can. He also drives a tour bus very slowly, so people take good photos.

Maria: That is smart. I want photos of the old church.

Leo: Bring your camera. Are you tired after last week?

Maria: A little. I like driving my car, but four hours is too long.

Leo: And it is expensive now. Gas costs a lot this month.

Maria: Yes, it does. My brother is not here. He lives overseas now.

Leo: Where is he?

Maria: In Canada. He is a happy traveler and he visits ten countries.

Leo: Wow. When does he board his next plane?

Maria: In two weeks. See you on Sunday!
