The Painter's Small Shop (A2 · English A2)

Tekst / Transcript

Sara: Hello, Tom. Look at this little shop on the corner.

Tom: Oh, it is new. The window is full of colours.

Sara: A painter works here. He paints every afternoon.

Tom: I see him now. He holds a brush and smiles at us.

Sara: Let us go in. The door is open.

Tom: This picture of the sea is lovely. Is it a copy?

Sara: No, it is the original one. He paints it last spring.

Tom: It is expensive then. I have no money today.

Sara: You can buy a cheap print of the same picture.

Tom: That is a good plan. My room needs colour.

Sara: He has several small pictures on the back wall too.

Tom: I like the one with the red boat.

Sara: His wife is a designer of clothes. She makes bags here.

Tom: I never see such nice bags in the big shops.

Sara: They produce everything in this small room.

Tom: That is real work. I respect them.

Sara: Take a sheet of paper and write your address.

Tom: Why? Do they send news about new pictures?

Sara: Yes, and they guide you to the summer art market.

Tom: Perfect. I want to go there.

Sara: Look, she also makes a silver ring for her friend.

Tom: It is beautiful. Maybe I buy one for my mother.
