A Party for Grandma (A2 · English A2)

Tekst / Transcript

Lena: Hi Marco, do you have five minutes? I want to talk about Grandma's birthday.

Marco: Of course. Is it next Saturday?

Lena: Yes, and I want to surprise her with a small party at my flat.

Marco: That sounds lovely. She never asks for anything.

Lena: I know. She always says a birthday is just a normal day.

Marco: But she loves visitors. Who will come?

Lena: I want to invite her old friends from the village. Maybe ten people.

Marco: Ten people is perfect. The room will be full but not too full.

Lena: I sent a short invitation by email yesterday evening.

Marco: Good idea. Some of them do not use the phone very much.

Lena: True. Mrs Park answered after one minute. She was so surprised that she wrote three lines.

Marco: That is nice. What about food?

Lena: I will make a chocolate cake herself, like last year.

Marco: Your cakes are always good. Do you need help?

Lena: You are always helpful, Marco, so yes. Can you bring the drinks?

Marco: No problem. I will come at three o'clock.

Lena: Perfect. And we should buy a gift together.

Marco: What does she want? She has everything.

Lena: She loves photos. I have a box of old pictures at home.

Lena: Exactly. She can look at it in the evening with her tea.

Marco: There is one problem. The blue chair in your kitchen is broken.

Lena: That chair is not mine, it is hers. Grandma left it here in May.

Marco: Then I will repair it before the party.

Lena: You are wonderful. I think the day will be full of laughter.

Marco: Yes, her friends laugh a lot when they are together.

Lena: Last time we sang songs until ten o'clock.

Marco: It is surprising how much energy she has at eighty.

Lena: She dances better than me. So we will celebrate properly this year.

Marco: Good. I will keep the secret, don't worry.
